If you love to combine beautiful views with the smell of olives, freshly baked bread and wine this is for you!

The green heart of Italy.

Starting in Umbria or wherever you'd like, you will discover one of the most beautiful, romantic and relaxing places in the world from the seat of the typical Italian vehicle (sorry FIAT), the Vespa scooter.

Umbria is nestled in the middle of Italy just between Ravenna and Rome and is bordered by famous Tuscany in the west. It is called the green heart of Italy and the land of saints and warriors.

Far away from the main tourist areas, this region is perfect for Vespa travel, which puts the traveler in direct contact with nature and ancient villages and towns. Perugia, Orvieto, Gubbio, Spoleto and Assisi, and also the smaller and less known towns as Trevi, Bettona, Todi, Montefalco, Bevagna and Castiglione del Lago.

They all invite you to discover the art of living well between castles and medieval villages, vineyards and paths through native olive plantations. Imagine it: your honeymoon on a Vespa. Sounds romantic? It is.

If you are interested in exploring this part of Italy, contact your local travel agency or Claudia directly, who, as a former interpreter, can help you plan your trip fluently. Email: honeymoon@umbriainvespa.com

Beautiful Sicily. Also a Vespa destination.

Where to stay?

You have multiple choices. You can rent a villa and tours from there, or you can go town-to-town and stay in local hotels. If you want to do day trips, consider the Hotel Le Tre Vaselle. They are well organized, speak English and know how to treat honeymooners. You can expect warm hospitality and attentive personnel. Of course we should mention the culinary creations of chef Domenico d'Imperio. He is located in Torgiano, just south of Perugia. Here is the website: <http://www.3vaselle.it>
